

VIADUCT

Enhancing Visibility of the Academic
Dialogue on EU-Turkey Cooperation

VIADUCT Teaching Papers: Deadline February 1st

VIADUCT is seeking manuscripts that describe innovative, new and creative ideas for teaching Turkey's relations with the European Union. Manuscripts of about 3000-4000 words should provide worthwhile and practical ideas on teaching Turkey and the EU relations as they relate to the themes listed below.

Objectives: The objective of the Teaching Paper Series is to enhance the exchange between lecturers who work on EU-Turkey relations and contribute to the development of teaching curricula. The related objectives are:

- stimulate teaching-based work on EU-Turkey relations
- enhance the pan-European exchange of teaching curricula
- Distribute "lessons learned" in teaching EU-Turkey relations

The targeted outcomes are to enhance the visibility of teaching EU-Turkey relations and the EU's Future among the wider academic community, and especially among lecturers.

Topics: Possible subjects of Teaching Papers are listed below, but the call is open for other related topics on teaching Turkey and the EU:

- Methodological approaches ('How to teach EU-Turkey relations')
- preparation of teaching curricula
- innovative work programmes for teaching activities

Who can participate? While the call is open for all ranks of teaching staff, junior faculty members are especially encouraged to submit their work.

Application and Selection Procedure: Manuscripts should be submitted to Meltem Müftüler-Baç (muftuler@sabanciuniv.edu) by February 1, 2019. The selected paper giver will be notified by February 21st, and will be invited to present the paper at the Teaching Working Group of the VIADUCT Annual Conference to be held in Istanbul on March 20 - 22, 2019.
