

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Under its newly launched ‘EP4U – European Policies for You’ project, the Trans European Policy Studies Association (TEPSA) is organising a student contest calling for students to draft policy recommendations for the EU and the EP on the theme of ‘Climate and the Environment’.

ABOUT THE CONTEST

The general objective of the student contest is twofold: (1) to raise university students’ awareness of EU policy-making and engage them with the work of the EU and the EP in the above-mentioned policy area; and (2) to promote civic engagement of young people in the future of Europe.

Students should provide original policy recommendations in their papers. Some examples of topics are provided; however, students are not bound to these topics and new ideas & topics are welcome.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

The applicant/s¹ should be an undergraduate (BA), a graduate student (MA) or should have graduated in the last year from university.

¹ Co-authored papers are welcome, however in case the paper is awarded, TEPSA will only cover the participation of one author to the Czech PPC in June 2022.

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- Interested students should submit a short policy brief (1000-1500 words), reflecting on the theme of Climate Change and Sustainability. The policy brief should contain concrete recommendations to policymakers in the specific policy area chosen (see below). View our guidelines for more information.
- The language of the policy paper should strictly be English.

Some examples of topics are provided below – however, students are not bound to these proposals and new ideas & topics are more than welcome:

- The Way Forward for Climate Change: Has the EU delivered on its 2020 targets for its first package of climate and energy measures?
- Clashes between Western and Eastern Member States: How to reconcile different interests and opinions regarding climate change?
- A Climate Neutral EU: How can the EU effectively achieve its 2050 goals?
- How to further include the use of clean energy for future innovation and technology within the EU?
- Carbon Neutrality and The European Green Deal: an ambitious or belated project?
- Sustainability in Member States: how to balance National actions?
- Climate change and environment protection: Ensuring intergenerational solidarity.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Papers should be submitted no later than 23 January 2022 (midnight) to tanguy.babled@tepsa.eu and hugh.evans@tepsa.eu with “EP4UContest_Topic_LAST NAME” as the subject of the email, where topic refers to one of the four main topics of the EP4U project (climate and environment; employment and social policies; migration and asylum; and non-discrimination and protection of fundamental rights). For any question on the contest, please send an e-mail to tanguy.babled@tepsa.eu.

PRIZES & RECOGNITION

The results of the contest will be announced between January and February 2022. The winning author will be invited to participate free of charge in TEPSA’s Pre-Presidency Conference, taking place in Prague, in June 2022², with travel and accommodation costs covered³ (up until €350).

² Underage students cannot participate in the Seminars.

³ TEPSA will only reimburse the travel and accommodation costs of participants coming from eligible countries: all member states of the EU; Albania; Bosnia and Herzegovina; Kosovo; Montenegro; North Macedonia; and Serbia.

TEPSA Pre-Presidency Conferences (PPCs) are the main flagship activity of the organisation that bring together academics and researchers from the broad TEPSA network, policy-makers, media and civil society in order to discuss the agenda and challenges of the upcoming Council Presidencies. Student winners will have the opportunity to contribute to the organisation of the event and act as rapporteurs for some of the panel discussions.

Furthermore, the student winner will have the opportunity to present their policy recommendations to researchers and MEPs during the online EP4U final conference in May/June 2022. Additionally, the 4 policy recommendations will be published on TEPSA's website and shared on social media.

WHAT IS EP4U?

EP4U is a project aiming at raising citizens' awareness of EU policy-making and engage university and high school students, and the broader public, in discussions about the work of the EU and the EP in four policy areas that are considered salient for these audiences: climate and environment; employment and social policies; migration and asylum; and non-discrimination and protection of fundamental rights. These four policy areas are analysed in four different Member States: Finland, France, Bulgaria and Slovakia, whilst the project also reaches trans-national audiences in other Member States. To achieve these aims, TEPSA implements the following activities:

- Events
- Communication activities
- Student paper competitions
- High-school talks

ABOUT TEP SA

*The Trans European Policy Studies Association (TEPSA) was established in 1974 as the first trans-national research network in the field of EU affairs. It comprises leading research institutes throughout Europe, with an office in Brussels. Its aim is to provide high quality research on European integration in order to stimulate discussion on policies and political options for Europe. This is achieved by interaction between the European and national institutions as well as the academic and research community.
