

Integrating Diversity in the European Union

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No. 822304.

A workshop on pulling the threads together on External Differentiated Integration was held in Istanbul on October 11, 2021 at Sabanci University. The workshop was organized by Meltem Muftuler-Bac together with Michael Keating.

The workshop's main discussion revolved around a working paper on the UK's relations with the EU following Brexit and a report involving a comparative analysis of external differentiation.

The main objective of the workshop was to conceptualize and operationalize external differentiated integration and to identify the drivers of this process.
