

Co-funded by the Europe for Citizens Programme of the European Union

On 26 March 2018, TEPSA and the Istituto Affari Internazionali \(IAI\) co-organized the Conference “Unione europea: 60+1” together with the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES) and Villa Vigoni German-Italian Centre for European Excellence. This was one of the first events that TEPSA co-organised within its new three year programme supported by the Europe for Citizens grant, aimed at involving larger audiences in the debate on the Future of Europe. The public event discussed German and Italian perspectives on the future of the European Union.
