

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No. 870789.

The kick-off meeting of the DiCE project took place in Florence on 24 February 2020. The meeting gathered all DiCE partners: the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies at the European University Institute, ARENA Centre for European Studies at University of Oslo, Istituto Affari Internazionali, the Trans European Policy Studies Association, and the University of Exeter.

During the meeting, the partners could plan the work to be undertaken under the different work packages, discuss the scientific and dissemination strategy and finetune the timeline for the project deliverables.

Building on three ongoing H2020 sister projects (EU3D, Euidea and InDivEU), DiCE creates a unique cluster of excellence on differentiation. DiCE is also on Facebook and Twitter.